

CARVER

USER'S INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE 3600 STC AND 3600 STC AUTO CARAVAN HEATER

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

Carver Caravan heaters are completely room-sealed units based on a well proven and extremely efficient heat exchanger consisting of a pair of internally and externally finned aluminium die castings.

The gas burner is situated at the bottom of a vertical passage which permits complete combustion of the gas before meeting the exchanger surfaces. The combustion products travel along the top horizontal section and then downwards through further galleries while transferring their heat to the caravan. They are kept moving by the thermal drive of the rising column of hot gases from the flame.

The flue outlet of the heater is at the bottom of the heat exchanger thus ensuring that the majority of the heat is extracted from the combustion products before they leave the heat exchanger. The combustion path is completely sealed from the living space, all of the products of combustion are discharged through an insulated stainless steel flue pipe to a roof mounted terminal.

The heater is controlled by a knob mounted on top of the heater case which operates a thermostatic gas control valve. Incorporated in this valve is a flame failure device, so that if for any reason the burner flame is extinguished, the heater will automatically go to safe shut down.

Ignition of the 3600 STC is by manually operated piezo spark generator, 3600 STC by an automatic ignition/reignition unit which activates as soon as the knob is turned to the "✓" position, and remains active at all other knob positions until turned off. This automatic unit is powered by the caravan 12v D.C. or 9v D.C. battery.

The indicator on the control knob will illuminate when the appliance is first operated and will go out when the burner is alight or when the appliance is switched off.

PLEASE READ THESE CAUTIONS BEFORE USING THE HEATER

This heater must be installed by a competent gas fitter working to the Gas Safety (Installation & Use) Regulations, the Health & Safety at Work Regulations and the Council for Registered Gas Installers Regulations and these fitting Instructions. The gas supply to the heater must be from a pressure regulator of adequate capacity giving a working pressure of 28 mbar for butane or 37 mbar for propane. Under NO circumstances should an industrial or adjustable regulator be used on caravan applications.

The heater MUST NOT be operated while refuelling or when the vehicle is in a confined space such as a garage. The heater MUST NOT be used if the flue has been damaged. The products of combustion pass through the flue ducting to the roof cowl, therefore any damage to the flue could affect your safety. Make sure the outlet from the cowl on the roof is not obstructed in any way, such as by snow or articles blown against it.

DO NOT place objects that are likely to damage the flue against it. Avoid hanging wet clothes, etc. against the flue ducting. This heater has an underfloor flue and requires unrestricted air entry beneath the caravan or vehicle into which it is fitted.

A minimum of 3 sides of the vehicle around the underfloor intake to the heater must be open at all times. This is required to maintain good combustion and the efficiency of the heater. If there is a possibility of the sides becoming blocked by snow etc. then the heater must not be used. Every effort must then be made to clear that obstruction fully before further use of the heater.

There MUST BE a mantle piece or shelving sited above the heater.

Curtains must not hang within 150mm of the sides of the heater, or within 300mm above the top of the appliance.

DO NOT place furniture or upholstery closer than 5mm to the sides of the heater.

Always wait 3 minutes before attempting to relight the heater after switching off or the heater going to fail safe shut down.

Do not obstruct the gap at the bottom of the heater or the outlet grille slots.

When the caravan is in motion the heater (as with all gas appliances) MUST BE SWITCHED OFF and the gas cylinder turned off.

DO NOT obstruct the gap at the bottom of the heater or the outlet grille slots.

A guard fitted around the heater is recommended where children, the elderly or the infirm are present.

This heater does not contain any asbestos or asbestos-related products.

Aerosols and highly inflammable materials MUST NOT be stored in compartments behind, or adjacent to the heater.

When the appliance is in use, the flue ducting becomes hot. No plastics, fabrics or aerosols must not be placed near the ducting.

When the heater is first used it is recommended that you open a window or door and turn the temperature setting to maximum for 1 hour. This will allow any odours when first using the appliance to escape.

Note: If the odours persist contact your local dealer.

TO LIGHT AND ADJUST THE HEATER

(Indicator light on Auto only)

(LEFT HAND INSTALLATION SHOWN)

1. BEFORE LIGHTING THE HEATER

Ensure that the gas is turned on at the cylinder

2. LIGHTING THE 3600 STC HEATER

Turn the gas control knob fully to the "OFF" position and then press firmly downwards. A click will be heard as the igniter light the burner. It may be necessary to operate the igniter several times.

Check through the viewing window on the lower half of the case that the pilot burner is alight. After the burner has lit continue to hold the gas control knob down for 30 seconds. This is to operate the flame failure safety device within the gas control.

The control knob can now be released, and the pilot will remain alight. To operate the main burner, turn the knob anticlockwise and set at the desired position between High and Low. If the burner fails to remain alight or if it is extinguished for any reason, the heater will shut down to a safe condition. After shut down, always WAIT 3 MINUTES before attempting to relight the heater.

3. LIGHTING THE 3600 STC AUTO HEATER

Press the control knob down and rotate to the "OFF" position, maintaining downwards pressure. The igniter will be heard to operate with a continuous "ticking" noise and the indicator will illuminate.

Maintain the downwards pressure until the burner is seen to light while checking through the viewing window on the lower half of the case. The indicator light will go out.

After the burner has lit continue to hold down the knob for a further 20 seconds. This is done to operate the flame supervision device within the gas control.

The knob can now be released and the pilot burner will remain alight. To operate the main burner, turn the knob further anticlockwise and set it at the desired position between high and low.

If the burner fails to remain alight, or if it is extinguished for any reason, the heater will shut down to a safe condition. A continuous "ticking" noise will be heard and the indicator light will illuminate as the Auto igniter continues to operate, until the knob is turned off.

After shut down, always WAIT 3 MINUTES before attempting to relight the heater.

4. TO ADJUST THE ROOM TEMPERATURE

Turn the Gas Control Knob to the setting that gives the required comfort level. The main burner will 'cycle' on and off automatically as required by the thermostat to maintain the set temperature, the pilot will always remain alight.

5. TURNING OFF THE HEATER

Turn the control knob fully clockwise to the "OFF" position.

SERVICING

In order to ensure that your Carver heater continues to operate effectively, you will need to arrange for it to be serviced at least once a year by a competent and trained service engineer.

Clearly, you will need to call in for service if, at any time, you experience difficulties with the heater's performance. There are a number of Dealers throughout the country who can give you this facility and they are listed at the back of this leaflet. If however, it is impractical to use them, you are recommended never to try to deal with the problem yourself but to turn off the gas to the heater, preferably at the cylinder, and to call your nearest Caravan Dealer for advice. He can then arrange for a competent engineer either to deal with the heater at your caravan, or to remove the heater and deal with it at a suitable workshop and then re-install it.

The reason for this advice is that by law no one is permitted to deal with the installation and servicing of gas appliances unless he is competent to work to the Gas Safety and Use Regulations. Carvers provide special training facilities for their own and Dealer staff to make sure that you have available at all times competent engineers to deal with your requirements.
